17 Egmont Honey

A beehive may seem like an unusual present, but for committed conservationist Toby Annabell, it was perfect. Gifted by his son James, this hive sparked a passion for authentic Mānuka Honey and ethical beekeeping. This passion fuelled the growth of that single hive into 100, then 1,000, and eventually the 4,000 that are now nestled into the native bush of the Annabell's South Taranaki farm. Dense, rich honey flows straight from the hive to our purpose-built factory in Bell Block where it's bottled and delivered to the shelf at our Egmont Honey Devon Street retail shop. Nothing to hide; nothing but nature.
